Do you worry
about corrosion in your expensive equipment?

Do you want to protect your truck?

Having purchased this piece of brand new equipment recently, Unified Sewerage Agency in Oregon knew these trucks experienced difficulties in emptying completely, along with corrosion in the tank caused by sticking residue. They decided to contact ICS, Inc. in Vancouver, Washington for the solution to their problems. After consultation about the experiences USA had had with their other equipment it was decided that a spray-in coating of was in order. The truck was sent to our shops in Vancouver and the work was performed as discussed by technicians at ICS.

The resins applied by ICS are highly chemical resistant, impermeable to water, and boast a coefficient of friction lower than an ants' ankles! This makes for the toughest and slipperiest tank liner available in the industry.

Do you want your truck to empty more completely?

Vac Trucks and sweepers are prone to corrosion caused when the loads do not completely empty after they are used. The factory coating they are shipped with does not last. Our liners help you eliminate corrosion in several ways. Our liner is designed to be hard and very slippery so that your truck empties better than ever. Fewer man hours spent cleaning out the debris box or tank. Corrosion can't get to the steel. That saves you MONEY!

There is no expensive corrosion to your equipment anymore when your truck is lined with a ICS tank liner. No more expensive deterioration of the holding tank. Our liner is impermeable to water and chemically resistant to just about anything you can vac or sweep up in your work day. That's money in your pocket because of extra life to your expensive equipment! Are you ready to take care of your vac or sweeper truck problems once and for all? Give us a call!
